TOPSHOP
fashionable bike route no.3
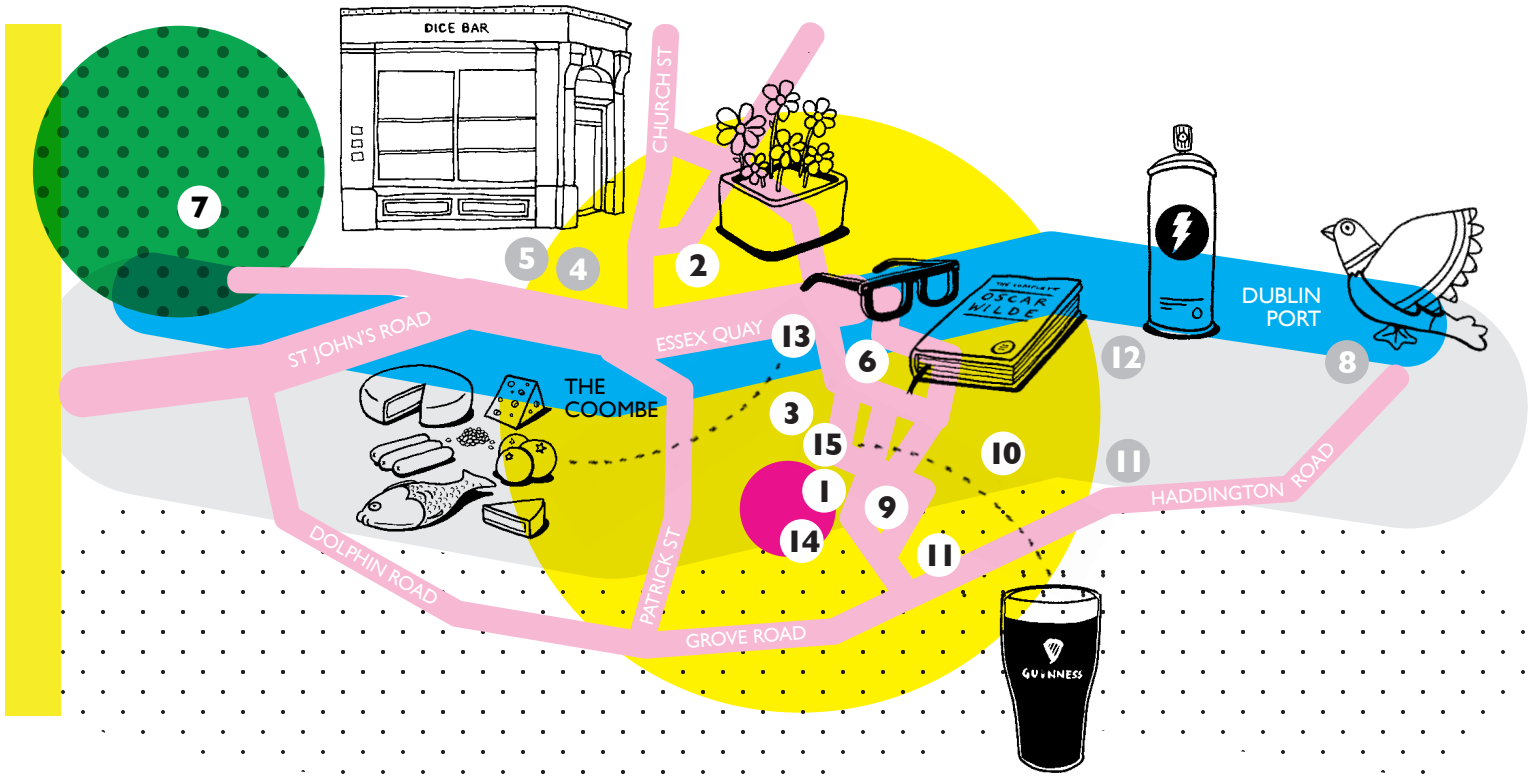
DUBLIN



DUBLIN

1 - St Stephens Green
Pack a picnic, feed the ducks and watch the best of Dublin folk pass the day in this picturesque park.

2 - Smithfield Market
Home to Dublin's famous flower market.
Smithfield Square.

3 - A Store is Born [Saturday's only]
This second hand store is housed in a garage, stocks great vintage, cashmere pretty floral tea dresses and leather bags.
34 Clarendon Street.

4 - The Dice Bar
Stop for a refreshing lemonade at the New York style Dice Bar – with the coolest live DJs in town. Piercings welcome.
Corner of Queen Street and Benburb Street.

5 -Lara Lu Foods
This food stall boasts the most scrumptious soups and salads in town.
Drury Street.

6 - Trinity College
The perfect spot to get out your reading specs, rest your bike up and pen some poetry. College Green.

7 - Phoenix Park
The largest enclosed urban public park in Europe. Also home to Dublin's Zoo founded in 1830. Parkgate Street.

8 - South Wall
Pigeon House on the cobbled pier extends out to the sea with a lighthouse at the end. It gets very blustery! South Wall.

9 - Iveagh Gardens
Ssh… don't tell… this picturesque hidden enclave is the secret garden for those in the know. Off Earlsfort Terrace.

10 - Merrion Square
Come over all artistic as you cycle past the National Gallery.
Merrion Square.

11 - Dublin Canal
Pedal up Leeson Street until you hit the canal, head east all the way to the Grand Canal dock and stop off at Ocean for a spot of posh Irish nosh.

12 - Windmill Lane
Leave a message for Bono on Windmill Lane in the city's grooviest graffiti avenue.

13 - Organic Food Market
Saturday mornings the market is home to the yummiest Irish organic foods. In the evening catch an outdoor movie screening in the same square.
Meeting House Square. Dublin 2.

14 - The Village
Because fashionable girls love to rock out, cycle up Wexford Street on a Sunday night for 'Songs of Praise', the coolest rock and roll karaoke. Wexford Street.

15 - Neary's pub
This is the best place to padlock your bike up and sit al fresco with a packet of salt n vinegar crisps and…your pint of the black stuff. Cheers! Grafton Street.

– Topshop!
6-7 St Stephens Green